Serving Children in the Digital Future

Yes, as a Welsh language teacher (second language) and a mother I agree that a new television channel in Welsh for children and young people is needed. It should show a variety of programmes for all ages and also for learners, including music, news, drama, film, magazine, sport, fashion, talent shows, quizzes and competitions etc.

I would like to see a morning programme for adults on S4C with news and Welsh items as well as international matters. It would be more relevant to me as I prepare for work, rather than the Anglicised nonsense I currently see on BBC/GMTV.
